CITY OF SOUTH HAVEN PLANNING COMMISSION 2017 MASTER PLAN OPEN HOUSE DECEMBER 20, 2017

The City of South Haven Planning Commission is working on the city's 2017 Municipal Master Plan. As part of this effort, an open house is being held to December 20, 2017 to present the draft Master Plan and permit residents to comment on the draft of the Master Plan.

You are invited to participate in this workshop because you either own property, operate a business, or live within the study area. Those who attend will hear a brief presentation by the planning consultants and be invited to visit reaction stations, where large copies of the draft Future Land Use Map, along with text summaries, will be on tables throughout Council Chambers. Participants will be encouraged to leave comments either on large flip-chart sized tablets or the draft Future Land Use Map itself. All other Master Plan maps prepared will also be on display. Participants are encouraged to leave responses at response stations throughout the room.

The workshop will be facilitated by MainStreet Planning Company, a professional land use consulting firm, which is assisting the Planning Commission in writing the 2017 Master Plan. Your participation is needed and is extremely important in crafting a master plan and future land use map that reflects your ideas and visions for your community!
